Section 1. That the following notice of said special election called by said Ordinance No. 56, as aforesaid, to be held in said City of Sonoma, on the 26th day of April, 1893, is now after the completion of the publication of said Ordinance, No. 56, as aforesaid, hereby ordered and directed to be published by the City Clerk, and shall be published for two weeks prior to said day of election, in THE SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said City of Sonoma as follows to wit:

To the qualified voters of the City of Sonoma.

Notice is hereby given that a special election has been by the Board of Trustees of said City, by ordinance passed by a vote of more than two-thirds of all of the members of said Board of Trustees, and approved by the President of said Board of Trustees, and published once a week for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said City, duly and regularly called, and will be held in said City of Sonoma, on the 26th Day of April, 1893,

at which special election shall be submitted to the qualified voters of said City of Sonoma, the proposition of incurring an indebtedness in the sum of Eighteen Thousand Dollars for the purpose of the acquisition, construction and completion by said City of Sonoma of said permanent system of waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, aqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks and machinery for the same and connected with the use thereof as aforesaid, and to do and perform all acts and things whatsoever necessary for the construction and completion of public waterworks for the said city and its inhabitants, and for the construction and completion of said waterworks, to supply said city and the inhabitants thereof with a sufficient quantity of pure, fresh water for domestic use and for the use of the Fire Department, and for flushing sewers, sprinkling streets and other purposes.

If the proposition of incurring a municipal indebtedness for the purposes above set forth be accepted by the qualified electors of said City, by a vote of two-thirds of all the voters voting at such special election, bonds of the City of Sonoma, for said municipal improvements will be issued for the cost of said improvements.

Said bonds shall be of the character known as "Serials," and shall be payable in United States Gold Coin, and in the manner following:

One-fortieth part of the whole indebtedness for the purposes aforesaid for which the qualified voters of said city shall accept the proposition to incur an indebtedness, together with the annual interest thereon at the rate of six (6) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually on all unpaid portions of said indebtedness, shall be payable each and every year on a day and at a place to be hereafter fixed therein by the Board of Trustees of the City of Sonoma, until the whole amount of said indebtedness be paid.

For the said acquisition, construction and completion of said permanent public municipal improvements as set forth in Ordinance No. 56, there will be forty (40) bonds which shall be of the denomination of four hundred and fifty dollars each, bearing interest coupons for thirteen and 50-100 dollars each. In case any of the officers above appointed to conduct said election do not attend at the opening of the polls on the morning of the election, the electors of the said city present at that hour may appoint or supply any competent person from among themselves to fill the place of such absent member thereof.

All persons qualified by law to vote at municipal elections in said city shall be qualified to vote at said special election.

The ballots which shall be used at said special election shall be of the same character and form as ballots required by law to be used at municipal elections in said City of Sonoma, except as hereinafter otherwise provided. Each of said ballots shall have printed thereon the following caption or heading, to-wit: "MUNICIPAL TICKET," and shall have printed thereon and under said caption the following words, to-wit: "Proposition for incurring an indebtedness by the City of Sonoma to the aggregate amount of Eighteen Thousand Dollars for the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of a permanent system of waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks, machinery for the same, and all other things necessary for the proper use thereof, as set forth in Ordinance No. 55 of said city." Underneath the last foregoing words upon each of said ballots shall be printed the following: "To vote for or against incurring said indebtedness stamp a cross (X) to the right of and against the answer you desire to give." Underneath which shall be printed in one line the following: "For incurring the indebtedness," to the right of which shall be printed in one square the word "Yes" with a blank square to the right thereof, and immediately below the same there shall be printed in one line the following: "For incurring the indebtedness," on the right of which there shall be printed in one square the word "No," with a blank square to the right thereof. Every voter desiring to assent to, and accept the said proposition for incurring the said indebtedness set forth herein shall in voting at said election stamp a cross (X) in the blank square to the right of the word "Yes" printed upon his ballot as aforesaid. And every voter desiring to reject the said proposition of incurring said indebtedness shall in voting at said election stamp a cross (X) in the blank square to the right of the word "No" printed upon his ballot as aforesaid, such marking or stamping shall only be done with a stamp, which with the necessary pad and ink will be provided for each booth for the purpose, by the Clerk of the City of Sonoma.

Section II. The City Clerk shall provide for said election in said City not less than one hundred municipal tickets for every fifty or fraction of fifty voters registered in said City, and shall also cause to be printed on plain white paper, without water mark or endorsement, except that the words "Sample Ballot," at least as many copies of the form of ballots provided for use in said election as there shall be registered voters in said City. Such copy shall be designated "Sample Ballot" and shall be furnished to resident voters by said Clerk inclosing said sample separately in envelopes, and mailing the same as printed matter, through the United States postoffice, for delivery to each of said voters. The mailing of all of said envelopes containing said sample ballots, as aforesaid, shall commence at least ten days before the time fixed for said election, and continue so that all of said envelopes containing said sample ballots shall have been mailed at least three whole days before said election. Not more than one of said sample ballots to be furnished to any one voter.

Section III. This Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, approval and publication.

A LOVELY MODEL.

Mrs. Bonnano Has Sat Some Thousands of Times For Photos.

Perhaps there is not a woman in this country or in the world, whether actress, professional beauty, queen or princess, who has been photographed as many times and in as many different poses as has Mrs. Domenico Bonnano. In Mrs. Bonnano's case it was nothing but a tribute, first, last and all the time, for in each instance she was photographed only because she was beautiful. Moreover, the photographer was a recognized authority on female beauty, a past grand master of the art of photography, a magician of lenses.

He was Napoleon Sarony, Mrs. Bonnano's first husband.

When Sarony established his photograph gallery in New York, he conceived the idea of advertising his business by placing in prominent locations samples of his work. There were professional beauties and handsome actresses in those days, just as there are in these days, but Sarony never found a more inspiring subject than his own wife, and he used to delight to make pictures of her in all sorts of artistic attitudes and in all sorts of garb to which her remarkable figure and charming features best lent themselves. So it came about that hundreds if not thousands of photographs were taken of Mrs. Bonnano before her first husband died. These photographs extend over a period of many years, showing Mrs. Bonnano in the flush of youth and up to the maturity of her personal charms. They make a remarkable collection that is highly prized by members of her family. Not only was Mrs. Bonnano photographed often, but her picture was painted and sketched hundreds of times. Sarony himself drew her portrait in charcoal or crayon at every opportunity.—Philadelphia Press.

OLD ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

Historically It Is Among the Most Interesting Churches in the Country.

Historically and in the relics of the past which it contains few if any churches in America are more interesting than old St. John's at Portsmouth, N. H. The founding of the parish dates from 1638, but the present edifice is modern. It was built in 1806, and the good man who preached the dedication sermon described it as a work of stupendous magnitude. It is not, however, the building which attracts us, but its belongings. Here we see the old prayer book, with the prayer for the president pasted over that for the king; the "Vinegar" Bible, of which only 40 copies were printed, and but five of which are in the United States. The bell which calls the parish to prayers is a capture from Louisburg, and, although twice recast, once by Paul Revere, since its voice was heard in its foreign home, it is yet the same old bell. An armchair, which stands behind the altar rail was a gift from Queen Caroline, but is now known as the Washington chair, having been occupied by the first president of the United States when he attended service in the old church.

Admiral Farragut was buried from St. John's, and the reading table is made of wood from his flagship. A strange bit of treasure trove is the heavy porphyry font taken from an old church in Portsmouth and captured by the English from the French off the coast of Africa. Every Sunday 12 loaves of bread are placed upon this font and distributed to 12 old women, in accordance with the terms of one Theodore Eccleston's last will and testament, and because of a gift by will the church is still heated by wood fires.—Nashua (N. H.) Telegraph.

The Child at the Play.

The 6-year-old son of a newspaper man occasionally goes to the matinee with his mother, but the trouble with him is that he becomes greatly excited and is apt to express his feelings in words, to the amusement of the audience, but somewhat to the annoyance of the actors. At a recent play one of the actors was in the act of choking another whom he suspected of being guilty of a crime. As the actor went toward the supposed villain with his hands outstretched the boy became greatly excited, and as the men clinched the boy stood up and called out, "Say, let him alone, he didn't do it." There was a laugh from the audience and a surprised look from the stage.

At another time, in a play where a husband suspected his wife, and she was pleading to be taken home and given an opportunity to prove her innocence, the boy could not stand the woman's pleas and the husband's cold reception of her entreaties, and he called out, "Please, mister, take her back."

The boy has not been taken to the theater recently.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Time Is Also Cruel.

Mrs. Biffkin was dissolved in tears.

"You have changed," she sobbed; "you have changed most cruelly. You love me no more. You no longer sit with your arm encircling my waist, as was your custom before we were married."

"Good heavens, Antoinette!" exclaimed Mr. Biffkin. "You should have married an india rubber man."

Alas! It was but too true. Mrs. Biffkin had also changed.—London Tit-Bits.

Cultured Instincts.

"Our cook is so refined!"

"Is she?"

"Yes. She has never broken anything but our most expensive and artistic china."—Detroit Free Press.

The humming bird, in protecting its nest, always flies at and pecks the eyes of its adversary. Crows have been found totally blind from the humming bird's bill.

Britishers can send a closed letter to any part of the British Isles for a penny, provided it does not weigh more than a quarter pound.

Canvasback Ducks.

The present writer has paid $5 for a canvasback duck in the Maryland club in the city of Baltimore, the city which is the home of the canvasback connoisseur, and situated in the district which is the haunt of the canvasback.

In San Francisco, on the other hand, it is possible to partake of an excellent dinner at one of the many French restaurants wherein a canvasback shall figure and a dinner can be secured with ordinary wine at from $1.25 to $1.50—less than one-third of the single item of duck at the Baltimore dinner.

It may be said by captious critics that the canvasbacks in San Francisco are not so good as the canvasbacks in Baltimore. Error! They are not only just as good, they are the same. All of the canvasbacks in the United States come from the same district, the vast breeding grounds in Alaska. The ducks, flying to the southward, take up their various lines of flight over the lakes of the northwestern states, like Minnesota, thence down to the Chesapeake marshes, or dividing and going to the west of the Rocky mountains, they come to the feeding grounds which line the great marshes at the confluence of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers. The birds come from the same breeding grounds, they get the same food in our Suisun marshes as they do on the Chesapeake—to wit, the wild celery, Apium graveolens. In short, the birds are exactly the same. They differ only in price.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Have You a Pet Superstition?

"I don't believe there is a man living who is without his pet superstition," remarked a secondhand furniture man the other day. "We constantly have people who sell us articles of household use and come in after a few weeks—sometimes only days—and try to buy them back again, with the explanation that they have had 'bad luck' ever since the sale was made and never would have good luck again until the bargain was undone.

"One woman who had sold us her grandmother's clock fairly wept because it was gone before she could buy it in again. This idea is not confined to uneducated or ignorant people by any means.

"At this very time I know a business man of great culture and refinement who is vigorously pursuing an old wooden desk which he owned many years ago—a desk on which he made an enormous amount of money by a few lucky strokes of his pen. The desk passed from hand to hand and out of his possession. He is now earnestly endeavoring to trace it and purchase it, believing that recent business reverses and hard times will flee away, if he can only stretch his legs once more under that same old desk."—Pearson's Weekly.

"Slug Religion."

The "religious editor" in one of the local newspaper offices came rushing through the editor's room one day, her proofs flying like ribbons from both hands, which she held up in horror. She was a new member on the staff. Plainly she was excited.

"See there," she said to the editor in chief. "Just look at that."

She threw the curls of paper upon his desk, put her finger on a spot and glared.

"And look at that, and that, and that."

She pointed at other spots.

"What is it?" asked the chief, studying the spots.

"Why, 'slug religion.' Somebody has written at the head of every paragraph the words 'slug religion,' and the printers have printed it too. Think if it had gone in the paper. I won't stay"—

It was not easy to explain that "slug religion" and "slug society" and "slug sport" were mere composing room signs to indicate in which department of the paper the blocks of type were to be set.—New York Commercial.

Her Pathetic Contrast.

It is not in the saying of pungent things or even witty things that children become interesting, and this is why so often the glimpses of children we have given us are so unsatisfactory. It is the utterance of things that have a heart of pathos that makes the talk of little ones so wonderful.

A lady standing between two beds at a children's hospital not long ago upon the occasion of a small feast opened conversation with one of the patients by saying:

"What have you had, dear?"

"The pleurisy, ma'am," came the answer.

"And what has this little girl had?"

"She's had cake, ma'am."

This may be the sort of thing you smile at while your throat tightens, but if you are a woman the heart of love in you is taken captive.—New York Ledger.

A Godsend.

The Kennebec Journal tells this story about a Maine man named Godsend Lufkin: "His grandfather died before he was born, leaving in trust a large property to the first grandson, then unborn. None of his four sons were at the time married, but they hustled around and soon removed that impediment. This queer named individual was the first grandson of the old gentleman to make his appearance on earth, and his mother remarked to the clergyman at the baptism that he was a godsend. The clergyman understood that was to be the name and so christened him."

It Works Well.

"Do you believe that honesty is the best policy, Rodden?"

"Most assuredly. I make all my money out of my honest customers."—Detroit Free Press.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION AND THE WATER PROPOSITION.

THE election of Dr. H. H. Davis, Fred'k T. Duhring, and G. S. Harris for City Trustees last Monday was a signal victory for the progressive citizens of Sonoma and goes to prove that public sentiment in this community is for bonding the town for a municipal ownership of water works. This being so, we trust that the more reasonable of those of our people who have been vehement against the bond proposition will stand in with the majority and make the election on the 26th inst., unanimous in favor of a proposition that if carried will revive Sonoma and give us an improvement that all will share alike.

The City Trustees-elect, as well as the two hold-overs, stand pledged in case the water proposition carries to be guided by the judgment of their constituents as to the system to be embraced and the amount of money to be expended—that is to say, if they want a water system that can be adopted for $8,000, they will expend that amount of money and no more. The balance of the bonds can and will be cancelled.

Surely, the word of Messrs. Duhring, Harris, Davis, Seipp and Hartin ought to be a sufficient guarantee that the affairs of this town will be honestly, economically and wisely conducted for the general good of all our citizens.

Now, let the people of Sonoma—those that favor water and those that do not favor water—reason the water proposition in a calm and dispassionate manner. Nothing is to be gained by yelling boodlers, thieves, mortgage and a lot of other twaddle, which we are sorry to say has been indulged in by some people in this town who ought to have more common sense and decency.

Trustees Davis, Duhring, Hartin, Harris and Seipp in supporting a municipal ownership of water works are acting for the best interests of every man, woman and child in the town. Each and every one of them are keen, honest and conservative business men and property owners. They represent in a remarkable degree the progressive element of Sonoma and if the people will have faith in them and encourage them to go ahead and give this town a system of water works, which God knows we need bad enough, they will never cease congratulating themselves on standing in with a proposition that will not only pay good interest on the investment, lower insurance rates, increase property valuations, but also save old Sonoma from being numbered among the dead towns and rivers of California.

THERE is a water famine in Sonoma and the residents of the town, aside from the artesian well owners, have not enough water for domestic use, let alone for sprinkling gardens. Water for fire purposes is out of the question and should a conflagration break out the town would be completely at the mercy of the Fire Fiend, as was the fine Catholic Church building, which was destroyed by fire a few years ago.

As we go to press the war between the United States and Spain is waging furiously in the metropolitan dailies. Thus far, however, no lives have been lost, but an awful lot of journalistic ammunition has been wasted.

IN voting on the water proposition on Tuesday, April 26th, do not fail to stamp your X in the square opposite the word YES. If you do this you will be voting for your homes and firesides and in favor of your town going ahead.

IT is said that owing to the paucity of water the Insurance Union will raise insurance rates in Sonoma the coming summer.

A VOTE against the water proposition simply means driving a nail into the coffin of Sonoma.

A VOTE for water means work for every idle man in town at fair wages.

LET US ALL PULL TOGETHER.

Now that the smoke of battle has cleared away since last Monday's election contest it behooves all good citizens of this town to bow to the will of the majority and endeavor to send Sonoma to the fore by standing in together on the water proposition, which will be submitted to the voters on Tuesday, April 26th. If we cannot do this Sonoma will never go ahead.

IN voting on the water proposition do not forget that Trustees Davis, Duhring, Harris, Hartin and Seipp stand pledged to cancel all bonds voted in excess of the actual amount required to secure a municipal ownership of water works—that is to say, if a system can be put in for $10,000 the other $8,000 will not be borrowed or spent.

THE election last Monday was a complete vindication at the hands of the people of this town of the four water advocates of the old Board of City Trustees, Messrs. Bulotti, Seipp, Hartin and Modini, and a scathing rebuke to the kicking member, J. E. Poppe, who has voted "No" on every proposition looking to the betterment of Sonoma's water supply.

Town-killers are classified into eight different bunches, as follows: First, those who go out of town to do their shopping; second, those who are opposed to improvements; third, those who prefer a quiet town to one of push and business; fourth, those who think they own the town; fifth, those who deride public-spirited men; sixth, those who oppose every movement that does not originate with themselves; seventh, those who oppose every movement that does not appear to benefit them; eighth, those who seek to injure the credit and reputation of individuals.—Calistogian.

Mrs. Morse Dies in San Francisco

Mrs. Sarah M. Morse, for many years a resident of this valley, died at her home in San Francisco on Wednesday of this week. The deceased was well known to many of the people of this place, having at one time owned the Wade ranch, which she sold about ten years ago and removed to San Francisco. EASTER SERVICES.

Easter services were held by the M. E. Church last Sunday night in Union Hall, as the improvements to the church building have not been completed. Instead of the regular sermon an interesting entertainment was given by the young people for the benefit of the missionary fund. The programme, which was of a religious character, was appropriate for the occasion and was carried out in a manner that did justice to all who took part.

The Easter services at St. Francis' Church were well attended at last Mass. An impressive sermon was delivered by the pastor, Rev. Father Quill. Beautiful flowers decorated the altars and everything was done to give effect to an occasion that brings joy to every Christian heart. The music by the choir was well-rendered and enjoyed by a large congregation.

The services at the Congregational Church drew out a large crowd on Easter morning. This church was handsomely decorated with choice flowers, prominent among them being the Easter lily. Crosses and lovely white flowers decorated the altar. When the fine pipe organ burst into melody all felt that thrill of joy known only on such an occasion. The singing by the choir was well received, especially the beautiful solo by Miss Claire Hope. A characteristic Easter sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. C. E. Chase.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Death of a Pioneer Resident.

Otto Schetter, a pioneer resident of the Sonoma Valley, died in Yuma, Arizona, on Tuesday last. The deceased, years ago married Elizabeth J. Carriger, daughter of the late Nick Carriger, one of the earliest settlers of Sonoma. In the early seventies Mr. Schetter removed to Arizona, where he has ever since resided.

Brevities.

Miss Dora Howe visited Napa City yesterday.

Miss Evelyn Gearhart is visiting Santa Rosa friends this week.

Camm & Hedges are the leading Petaluma dealers in all kinds of lumber. *

The thermometer registered over 90 degrees in the shade several days this week.

The Sonoma public school will close the 10th of June for the summer vacation.

Edelmann's Red Seal Cough Cure is the only cure for obstinate coughs and colds. Only at Edelmann's, Petaluma.

Camm & Hedges, 960 Washington street, Petaluma, dealers in doors, windows, moldings and all kinds of mill work. *

A delegation from this place will drive to Sebastopol to-day to attend the horse races, which are being held in that place.

There was another earthquake shock last Tuesday night. The vibrations were so slight, however, that sound sleepers were not disturbed.

The Livery Stable Club and a number of invited guests partook of a big feast of ice cream on Wednesday evening last. The feast was interspersed with vocal and instrumental music.

The norther which prevailed in this valley last Monday drew considerable moisture out of the ground and it is feared there will be a short hay crop if rain does not come within the next few days.

The residence of the late W. F. Wade, in the eastern suburbs of town, was entered by tramps one day last week, during the absence of the occupants, and a large quantity of bedding and wearing apparel purloined.

There will be a grand Grangers' picnic at Glen Ellen on Saturday, April 30th. During the day festivities will be held in Glen Ellen Park and the affair will wind up in the evening with a grand ball at Mervyn Hall.

The new Board of City Trustees will take their seats next Wednesday evening. The Board now consists of the following: J. H. Seipp, Henry Hartin, H. H. Davis, Fred. T. Duhring and Granville Harris. They are all water advocates and progressive men in every sense of the word.

The following guests registered at the Mervyn Hotel, Glen Ellen, the past week: William Bunch, San Francisco; Geo. Haskens, Santa Rosa; Miss F. Franklin, H. Callender, Miss C. Haffin, R. C. Scott and wife, E. B. Scott and wife, Richard O'Mera, Mrs. A. Crocker, Miss Blanche Fisher.

The frost of the past month or two has played the mischief with fruit in this valley. There will be a fair crop, however, of cherries, prunes, apples and pears. Peaches and apricots are gone, if we except a few orchards. Grapes are looking well and there will be a good yield provided Jack Frost does not get in his work on them the latter part of this month.

The work of repairing the S. F. & N. P. Railway drawbridge at Black Point, which was badly damaged by the recent earthquake, was completed last Tuesday night and the first train crossed Wednesday morning. Trains now arrive from San Francisco on more regular time and passengers do not have the inconvenience of being ferried across Petaluma Creek.

WATER ADVOCATES SCOOPED 'EM.

"He Who Laughs Last Laughs Best."

MESSRS. DAVIS, DUHRING AND HARRIS ELECTED CITY TRUSTEES.

Eugene Robin, for City Marshal, and R. A. Peppe for City Clerk, are Also Elected by Big Majorities.

The municipal election last Monday was one of the hardest fought and most exciting contests that this town ever passed through.

The main fight was for City Trustees. There were two tickets in the field. One of these tickets, composed of Dr. H. H. Davis, F. T. Duhring and G. S. Harris, represented the water proposition, which will be voted upon on the 26th inst. The other, composed of Geo. Breitenbach, J. E. Poppe and Henry Weyl, was against the water proposition and was snowed under.

Following is the vote for City Trustees:

G. S. Harris	99
Geo. Breitenbach	70
Majority for Harris	29
H. H. Davis	72
H. Weyl	46
Majority for Davis	26
Fred'k T. Duhring	81
J. E. Poppe	56
Majority for Duhring	25

For City Marshal J. E. Robin received 100 votes and J. A. Stockwell 41.

For City Clerk Robt. Poppe received 89 votes and Jas. H. Albertson 48.

For City Treasurer G. H. H. Cornelius had no opponent and received almost all the votes cast.

The result was a great victory for the advocates of municipal improvements and the INDEX-TRIBUNE, which made a hard and aggressive fight for the election of Messrs. Davis, Duhring and Harris. The election of the above will make the new Board solid for bonding the town for municipal ownership of water works and ensures the carrying of the proposition on the 26th inst.

The new Board will meet and organize next Wednesday night and will be composed of the following gentlemen: J. H. Seipp, H. Hartin, H. H. Davis, G. S. Harris and F. T. Duhring.

FORETOLD HIS OWN DEATH.

W. F. Wade of this Place Expires in San Francisco.

William F. Wade of this place died in San Francisco at the residence of his brother-in-law, W. T. Robinson, last Monday after a brief illness.

A remarkable circumstance in connection with his demise was that he foretold his death to his relatives. About three weeks ago his wife died in Napa, whither she had been taken for medical treatment. Upon the news reaching him he was very much affected and in the presence of a number of relatives Mr. Wade remarked that he too would pass away in three weeks from the day his wife died. Nothing was thought of the remark, as he was apparently in the enjoyment of fairly good health at the time he made the prediction. Since then he has resided most of the time with San Francisco relatives. A few days before his death he complained of feeling ill and took to his bed, and just three weeks from the day his wife died he followed her to that "bourne from which no traveler ever returns."

The deceased was a native of Boston, Mass., and aged 52 years. The funeral took place from the residence of Walter T. Robinson, 2534 Howard street, San Francisco, on Wednesday, the remains being interred in Laurel Hill Cemetery.

WHAT IS BEING SAID

Pointers Secured by Our Man Around Town.

That politics makes strange bedfellows.

That Peter Keil and the Livery Stable Club didn't "do a ting to 'em" on election day.

That there was a hot time in the old town Monday night after the election returns were counted.

That anybody Granice supports for office always gets left. That if you don't believe it ask Jas. H. Albertson.

That the INDEX-TRIBUNE made a gallant newspaper fight for the water and light candidates and as usual got there.

That the election last Monday was the livliest ever held in Sonoma and that the hooters for the successful candidates got in their work in great shape.

That a fastideous lady entered a store at Glen Ellen the other day and seeing some salmon bellies displayed upon the counter ordered two of those salmon stomachs.

That the election of Fred'k T. Duhring was a fitting rebuke to the imported vile traducer on Broadway. That Fred. is as a mountain to a dunghill alongside of the miserable wretch.

That the demonstration on Monday night in honor of the election of Messrs. Duhring, Davis, Harris and Robin frightened nervous people. That it was justifiable, however, as the "whoop-up" was for a good cause—water and light.

That a whole lot of people, who have been walking around this town for years to save funeral expenses, suddenly discovered that they were actually dead after the election returns were counted on Monday evening last and are now looking for a hole to crawl into. That if they can find a hole after doing the crawling act they ought to pull the hole in after them.

That George Breitenbach has got a $10,000 water system in sight and favors bonding the town in that amount to carry out the improvement. That that being so, he should stand in with the present bond proposition and after it carries use his best endeavors to assist the City Trustees in saving to the taxpayers the difference between $18,000 and $10,000. That if this can be done Granice and the other water fiends and boodling, thieving property-owners of Sonoma will stand in with him.

An Incorrigible.

Joe Keiser, a fourteen-year-old lad who has been stopping on the Clark ranch near Glen Ellen, recently out of pure devilment shot at a party of hunters who were out for a day's sport in the Glen Ellen hills. He was arrested Tuesday and taken before Judge Gibson for examination. The Judge held him to answer before the Superior Court. The youngster was turned over to Deputy Sheriff Beatty, who took him to Santa Rosa and lodged him in jail. For a youth of his years he is described as a hard case and a fit subject for one of our reformatory institutions.

The complaining witnesses against the youngster were W. Chase, Johnnie Chase, Arthur Kinney and Will Kinney. It appears that Keiser wanted to accompany them on a hunting expedition, but the other boys objected, and as a result he opened fire upon the young nimrods with a Flobert 22-rifle, emptying over half a dozen shells. His aim was poor, however, and his would-be victims escaped unscathed. The Santa Rosa Republican says that during his preliminary examination Joe was uncommunicative. The transcript of the evidence does not contain a single word uttered by him, though numerous questions were asked.

While on his way to Santa Rosa the lad escaped from Officer Beatty by jumping from a buggy and making tracks for the mountains. He was subsequently captured, however, and landed in the County Jail.

Accidents and Incidents.

H. Joost was kicked in the face by a vicious horse on Sunday afternoon last. His injuries, which are severe, but not dangerous, were attended to by Dr. Davis.

R. E. Perkins, the accommodating Wells, Fargo & Co's agent at this place, was taken suddenly ill last Monday evening while attending to his duties in Duhring's store. While stooping over he was seized with a stitch in the back. He fell to the floor unconscious. A physician was sent for and he was removed to his home, where he has been a very sick man. His doctor, however, expects to have him up and around in about a week.

Schieck's orchestra, which was reinforced by an excellent coronetist, was indulged in until early morning. A. R. Harrison, the genial host, provided for the inner man with a sumptuous supper. About fifteen Sonomaites were present.

Miss Kate Nankervis, after residing in Sonoma for over a year, left this morning for her home in Nevada City.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Dewey has been named Blanche, after their friend Mrs. Blanche Weems.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Steiger were presented with a baby boy at their home in San Francisco on the 10th inst.

H. G. Maxwell has been training an orchestra composed of San Francisco young men in Kohler & Chase's Hall for some time past, and it is said all are doing splendid work under their talented young leader. It is Mr. Maxwell's intention to give a number of concerts in the interior of the State the coming summer. The first will be at Sonoma, on which occasion Miss Claire Hope will be the vocalist.

A Distinguished Visitor.

Dr. Wm. T. Evans, surgeon on the U. S. training ship Adams, stationed at Mare Island, was the guest of his ex-shipmate, Norris Noel of El Verano, several days this week. Dr. Evans, who is enjoying a short furlough, took the opportunity to visit his old friend, who has served with him not only on the Adams but also on the U. S. gunboat Ranger. Upon being interviewed by the INDEX-TRIBUNE man in regard to the existing difficulties between the United States and Spain the Doctor declined to express an opinion, although when the destruction of the Maine was mentioned he had a war-like look in his eye that spoke volumns.

American Secureties Abroad

The sales of American securities have been, according to London advices, very large abroad of late. If this state of things holds, there will be an increasing influx of British gold into this market. This demonstrates the faith abroad in the stability of our credit. There is another point of faith for which the people not only of this but foreign countries have good grounds for credence, and that is belief in the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for inorganic maladies which affect the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys and nerves. Dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation and rheumatism are conquered by it. It hastens convalescence, and diffuses a generous warmth and sensation of physical comfort throughout the system.

A DEAD CARNATION.

Leonard Contemplates the Contents of a Desk Drawer.

The desk drawer, opened, exhaled an odor of faded flowers.

"Let us plunge into the atmosphere of sweet memories," said Leonard.

Wife absent, Leonard, addressing Bayard, his most intimate friend, indicated withered blossoms. Faded and grown musty in the lapse of years, they reposed at the bottom of the desk drawer.

"This lily," said Leonard, sighing, "was the flower given me by Blanche, my first love, when I took from her lips a timid kiss. She was as white as its impeccable petals, fragrant as its pure corolla, graceful as its drooping stem, and who knows what might have happened had she not died in the bloom of youth?"

"And the rose?" asked Bayard.

"Ah, that was later!" said Leonard, with a burst of laughter. "Rosette gave me that when she first brushed my lips with her own. The petals were once rosy as her warm being, and the flower's beauty was radiant and amorous as her young womanhood. If she had not been fickle, she might now be my wife."

"And the orchid?" queried Bayard.

"Hippolyta presented me with that," said Leonard, thoughtfully, "when she saw me trembling in adoration at her feet. Time was when it had the mystic charm of her own perverse personality, and if a Russian nobleman had not eloped with her I should still be her devoted slave."

Bayard discovered a bunch of faded violets.

"And these?" he interrogated.

"They were the flowers," murmured Leonard sadly, "which Etienette sent me when I had treated her brutally, believing that she had deceived me. She was demure and tender as the blooms, and, after the storm of my passions, she came like a peaceful sprite to pour beauty and love into my life. Had she forgiven me, it might have been"—

At this point Leonard interrupted himself, seizing angrily a dead carnation.

"Why is this flower here?" he cried. "It has no place among the precious memories. Away with it at once!"

In a moment the unresisting carnation was reduced to dust under his pitiless foot.

"Why do you destroy it?" questioned Bayard.

"Because it is the carnation Emilia gave me when she said she would be my wife," said Leonard, cynically, "and I married her."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Hard to Beat a Boy.

A cigar dealer in the west end said to a reporter for the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: "It takes a mighty sharp man to get ahead of a boy, for a fact. One of them came in here not long ago, and he was old enough to buy cigarettes and wanted a package. I sold them and got the money. In a minute a neighbor came in and wanted to know what the boy bought. I told him.

"'Well,' said he, "that beats the devil! Do you know what that boy did? He was in my store about five minutes ago and asked me to buy a pamphlet that is issued by the Anticigarette league, whatever that is. He told me that the boys in the public schools were trying to sell them everywhere to do away with the bad habit of cigarette smoking among the schoolboys. I thought it was a good thing, and I bought one from him. He sold some others in the same neighborhood. Now that little rascal comes in here and spends my money for cigarettes, and I'll bet a dollar that you'll find him around here somewhere near smoking for all that's out. I'm going to look him up.'

"The next day I asked him if he had caught the kid, and he said:

"'I did. He and some chums were having a good time of it, and, more than that, all of them were in the same business. They thought it was a good joke, and I suppose it was—on me—but if they come around my store again they'll get booted out.'

"But," said the cigar dealer, "they are too sharp to get caught. They only work one man at a time, and none of the gang ever goes back again. They keep a list, and I expect an examination will show that they have been to every store in that whole neighborhood. Where they get the pamphlets I do not know, but I imagine some of the good people of the league had them printed for gratuitous circulation, and the boys concluded to sell them. They're pretty slick."

Felt Acquainted.

A Boston lady of the most reserved and exclusive type was waiting for her change at the glove counter in one of the large stores when she was approached by a very large, gaudily dressed and loud looking woman, who held out a pudgy hand in a bright green kid glove and said:

"Why, how do you do, Mrs. Blank?"

Mrs. Blank ignored the proffered hand and, drawing herself up stiffly, said frigidly:

"I do not think that I know you, madam."

"No, I s'pose not," replied the woman, in nowise embarrassed by the coldness of her reception, "but I've knowed you by sight for a long time, and now I've got a hired girl who worked at your house once a year or two ago, and she's told me so much about you that I feel real well acquainted with you. Pleasant day, ain't it? Well, if she ain't polite to sail off without so much as a word! Shows her raisin, anyhow!"—Harper's Bazar.

The Water Lily.

Almost everybody has observed the strange characteristic of the water lily bud opening its petals at sunrise and closing them again at sunset. It was for this reason mainly that the ancients held the water lily sacred to the sun. Pliny says: "It is reported that in the Euphrates the flower of the lotus plunges into the water at night, remaining there till midnight, and to such a depth that it cannot be reached with the hand. After midnight it begins gradually to rise, and as the sun rises above the horizon the flower also rises above the water, expands and raises itself some distance above the element in which it grows." It was also through this peculiarity that Hancarville proved that the Egyptians considered the lily an emblem of the world as it rose from the waters of the deep.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

An Epitaph of Pope's.

The following epitaph was highly commended by Johnson. It was written to keep alive the memory of Elizabeth Corbett, who sleeps now in St. Margaret's, Westminster:

Here rests a woman, good without pretense.
Blest with plain reason and with sober sense;
No conquest she but o'er herself desired;
No arts essayed, but not to be admired.
Passion and pride were to her soul unknown,
Convinced that virtue only is our own;
So unaffected, so composed a mind,
So firm, yet soft; so strong, yet so refined,
Heaven, as its purest gold, by tortures tried;
The saint sustained it, but the woman died.

ONE OF TWO WAYS.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such is not liable to any form of disease except by by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

Chief Cause:

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passages is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort. The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidnes or bladder trouble. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. If you need a medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention the Index-Tribune and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. THE DEACON'S DARTER MABEL.

She isn't much on dress an such,
Like maidens in the city.
It mayn't be only jes' a touch
Of goodness makes her pretty.
To keep from blushin when she speaks
Our boys, leastwise, ain't able.
Of her they dream 'fer weeks an weeks,
The deacon's darter Mabel.

Across the aisle in church she sits
At every Sunday meetin,
An half the fellers lose their wits
Whene'er she smiles a greetin.
She ain't no fairy, sprite nor elf,
Like those of song an fable.
She's jes' her own dear little self,
The deacon's darter Mabel.

You see her golden curls an swear
A halo rests above her.
There ain't a one of us 'd dare
To own how much we love her.
An, as fer dress, canned fruit that's good
Ain't bettered by the label.
It's jes' the same with womanhood,
The deacon's darter Mabel.

—Roy Farrell Greene in New York Journal.

TO ENJOY A CIGAR.

But Few Men Ever Get the Very Best Possible Results.

"Personal observation has taught me," said a Cuban cigar dealer to a Star reporter, "that not one person in a hundred knows how to smoke a cigar to enjoy it thoroughly. For instance, most men, after buying their cigars, stick them between their teeth and gnaw the ends off recklessly, thereby tearing and loosening the wrapper. Then they light their cigars and puff away as if their very lives depended upon finishing them in a hurry. Thus treated the finest cigar will burn irregularly, and the smoker will, nine times out of ten, lay the blame on the cigar. The cigar may be to blame, but in most cases the fault lies in the way it has been handled.

"After a cigar has been bought the end should be cut smoothly off by a clipper or sharp knife. The reverse end should then be placed in the mouth and the cigar blown through. This removes all the little particles of dust which cannot be avoided in the manufacture and prevents them from being inhaled into the throat and from producing coughing. The cigar should then be lighted, and particular attention should be paid to its being thoroughly ignited all over the surface of the end. Then instead of puffing away like a steam engine the smoker will find that three or four puffs every minute make the best way to enjoy the cigar. The smoke should be kept in the mouth a short time in order to appreciate the flavor of the tobacco. Then it should be emitted slowly.

"In case one side of the cigar should burn and leave a ragged edge on the other side it is not necessary to relight it, as I often see many people do. A gentle blow through the cigar toward the lighted end will ignite the ragged side, and it will burn regularly. Smoking this way is a pleasure. It frets me to see a man smoking a cigar who does not know how to enjoy it, and I often feel like giving him a few words of advice and would do so were it not for the fear of offending him."—Washington Star.

Human Nature In the Steerage.

H. Phelps Whitmarsh writes of "The Steerage of Today" in The Century. Mr. Whitmarsh, who crossed the ocean in the steerage himself, says: To me the most noticeable thing about the life was the case with which the yoke of civilization was thrown off. If conditions be favorable, I opine that a large proportion of the steerage passengers throw back to their Darwinian ancestry about the third day out. Away from home, country and religious influences, unrestrained by custom and convention ality, bound by no laws of action and separated from all that force of opinion so strong in the world ashore, they let themselves go and allow their baser natures to run riot. No sooner has the seasickness left them than they growl and snarl over their food like dogs, scrambling for the choice pieces and running off to their bunks with them; they grow quarrelsome; their talk is lewd and insulting; brute strength is in the ascendant, and, without shame, both sexes show the animal side of their natures. But most apparent and obnoxious are the filthy habits into which many of them fall. The sea seems utterly to demoralize them. Some of them will remain for days in their berths, where, without changing their clothes, they eat, sleep and are sick with the utmost impartiality and without the blessing of soap and water. Hence the steerage as a whole, the "married quarters" (where there were children) in particular, was ill smelling and otherwise objectionable.

Appendixless Appendicitis.

The staff of a medical institution in this city were nopplused a day or two since when they undertook to perform an operation for appendicitis. After a careful and minute search among the contents of the abdominal cavity no appendix could be found. There was inflammation and adhesions and all sorts of trouble with other organs, but appendix there was none, and so no appendicitis. This, however, is not likely to interfere with the appendicitis business, for there were lots of other superfluous things which, in the absence of an appendix, were removed, and the desired result was obtained.—Portland Oregonian.

A Compromise.

"I don't suppose," said the wife, "that you mailed those letters I gave you today, John."

"No," said John cheerfully, "but I did those you gave me last week, my dear."

Sometimes policy and honesty go hand in hand.—Cincinnati Commercial Appeal.

During the last year no fewer than 10,000 school children were taught to swim by instructors employed by the London Schools Swimming association.

The gossamer iron made at Swansea, England, is so thin that 4,800 plates are needed to make an inch in thickness.
